GDPR Policy

Valid from May 2021

This policy has been adopted by Mareham Le Fen Community Centre Management Committee who remain responsible for its biennial review.

Mareham Le Fen Community Centre aims to ensure full compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), and aims to care for personal data appropriately. The Regulations apply to data in digital form and in hard copy, and mean that:

- Data needs to be processed securely
- Data needs to be updated regularly and accurately
- Data must be limited to what the organisation needs
- Data must be used only for the purpose for which it is collected and
- Before using personal data, organisations must give people clear information about how it will be used.

The Committee will never pass on or sell personal information and will not hold data unnecessarily.

1. Why this policy exists

This policy ensures that the Community Centre:

- Complies with data protection law and follows good practice;

- Protects the rights of staff, customers, volunteers, trustees and partners;
- Is open about how it stores and processes individuals' data;
- Protects itself from the risk of a data breach.

2. Data Protection Law

The Data Protection Act 1998 describes how organisations, including the Community Centre, must collect, handle and store personal information.

These rules apply regardless of whether data is stored electronically, on paper or on other materials.

To comply with the law, personal information must be collected and used fairly, stored safely and not disclosed unlawfully.

The Data Protection Act is underpinned by eight important principles. These say that personal data must:

- Be processed fairly and lawfully
- Be obtained only for specific, lawful purposes
- Be adequate, relevant and not excessive
- Be accurate and kept up to date
- Not be held for any longer than necessary
- Processed in accordance with the rights of data subjects
- Be protected in appropriate ways
- Not be transferred outside the European Economic Area (EEA), unless that country or territory also ensures an adequate level of protection

3. Responsibilities

Everyone who works or volunteers for or with the Hall has some responsibility for ensuring data is collected, stored and handled appropriately.

All staff and volunteers must ensure that personal data is handled and processed in line with this policy and data protection principles.

The Committee of Trustees is ultimately responsible for ensuring that the meets its legal obligations. It is also responsible for:

- Keeping itself updated about data protection responsibilities, risks and issues.
- Reviewing all data protection procedures and related policies, in line with an agreed schedule.

- Arranging data protection training and advice for the people covered by this policy.
- Handling data protection questions from staff and volunteers and anyone else covered by this policy.
- Dealing with requests from individuals to see the data the Hall holds about them (also called 'subject access requests').
- Checking and approving any contracts or agreements with third parties that may handle the Hall's sensitive data.
- Ensuring all systems, services and equipment used for storing data meet acceptable security standards.
- Performing regular checks and scans to ensure security hardware and software is functioning properly.
- Evaluating any third-party services the Hall is considering using to store or process data. For instance, cloud computing services.
- Approving any data protection statements attached to communications such as emails and letters.

- Where necessary, working with other staff or volunteers to ensure marketing initiatives comply with data protection principles.

The committee may appoint a nominated data protection trustee to assist with these responsibilities.

3. General guidelines

- The only people able to access data covered by this policy should be those who need it for their work.
- Data should not be shared informally.
- The Hall will provide training to all staff, trustees and volunteers to help them understand their responsibilities when handling data.
- All staff, trustees and volunteers should keep all data secure, by taking sensible precautions and following the guidelines below.
- In particular, strong passwords must be used and they should never be shared.
- Personal data should not be disclosed to unauthorised people, either within the organisation or externally.
- Data should be regularly reviewed and updated if it is found to be out of date. If no longer required, it should be deleted and disposed of.

- All staff, trustees and volunteers should request help from the chair or nominated data protection trustee if they are unsure about any aspect of data protection.

4. Data storage

These rules describe how and where data should be safely stored. Questions about storing data safely can be directed to the chair or nominated data protection trustee.

When data is stored on paper, it should be kept in a secure place where unauthorised people cannot see it.

These guidelines also apply to data that is usually stored electronically but has been printed out for some reason:

- When not required, the paper or files should be kept in a locked drawer or filing cabinet.
- Staff, trustees and volunteers should make sure paper and printouts are not left where unauthorised people could see them, such as on a printer.
- Data printouts should be shredded and disposed of securely when no longer required.

GDPR Policy

Valid from May 2021

When data is stored electronically, it must be protected from unauthorised access, accidental deletion and malicious hacking attempts. As the Hall does not have its own IT system, these rules apply to the storage of data by staff, trustees and volunteers on their own IT devices:

Data should be protected by strong passwords that are changed regularly and never shared between staff, trustees and volunteers.

If data is stored on removable media (like a CD or DVD), these should be kept locked away securely when not being used.

Data should only be stored on designated drives and servers, and should only be uploaded to approved cloud computing services.

Data should be backed up frequently.

5. Use of data

It is when personal data is accessed and used that it can be at the greatest risk of loss, corruption or theft:

When working with personal data, staff, trustees and volunteers should ensure the screens of their computers are always locked when left unattended.

Personal data should not be shared informally. In particular, it should never be sent by email, as this form of communication is not secure.

Personal data must never be transferred outside the European Economic Area.

6. Accuracy of data

The law requires the Hall to take reasonable steps to ensure data is kept accurate and up to date.

It is the responsibility of all staff, trustees and volunteers who work with data to take reasonable steps to ensure it is kept as accurate and up to date as possible.

- Data will be held in as few places as necessary. No-one should not create any unnecessary additional data sets.
- Staff, trustees and volunteers should take every opportunity to ensure data is updated.
- Data should be updated as inaccuracies are discovered.

7. Subject access request

All individuals who are the subject of personal data held by the Hall are entitled to:

- Ask what information the Hall holds about them and why.

- Ask how to gain access to it.
- Be informed how to keep it up to date.
- Be informed how the Hall is meeting its data protection obligations.

If an individual contacts the company requesting this information, this is called a subject access request.

Subject access requests from individuals should be made by email, addressed to the chair or nominated data protection trustee.

Individuals will be charged £10 per subject access request. The chair or nominated data protection trustee will aim to provide the relevant data within 14 days.

The chair or nominated data protection trustee will always verify the identity of anyone making a subject access request before handing over any information.

8. Disclosing data for other reasons

In certain circumstances, the Data Protection Act allows personal data to be disclosed to law enforcement agencies without the consent of the data subject.

Under these circumstances, the Hall will disclose requested data. However, the chair or nominated data protection trustee will ensure the request is legitimate, seeking assistance legal advice where necessary.

9. Why we need personal information

Personal information is needed to run the Committee of Trustees, comply with charity law, pay staff, reimburse trustees and volunteers and to facilitate bookings and enable hirers to be invoiced.

10. The Committee - Procedure for Use and Retention of Personal Information

To ensure we operate in a way that complies with the requirements of legislation, we will comply with the following procedure:

- i). After the AGM, each Committee member will be asked if their name, email address and telephone number can be shared with other Committee members.
- ii) Committee members will be asked if their name and the organisation they represent can be listed on the website. After the AGM, an updated list of Committee Members will be displayed on the website.
- iii) If a Committee Member leaves the Committee during the year or if they wish to withdraw their consent, the Secretary will inform other Committee Members and ask them to no longer contact the individual regarding Hall Business, and to remove their details from any electronic devices or paper records that they hold.
- iv) If Bank Details are required, these will be requested by the Treasurer, who will remind the individual that:

- Details of their bank account and sort code will be held with the Hall Bank Account.
- Their name and information about payment(s) will be held in our Financial Records.

v). If information is required for the Charity Commission this will be requested by the Treasurer.

Each year, the list of Committee Members will be updated by the Secretary to ensure it includes only current members. Individuals who have left the Committee will therefore no longer have their details included on the list.

Copies of the minutes are retained and kept securely.

Individuals who have left the committee will immediately have their details removed from our banking account, but records showing historic transactions may still refer to them.

11. Hirers - Procedure for Use and Retention of Personal Information

As the provider of a Community Centre for hire, we need to hold some information in order to meet legal contractual requirements. This information is collected through the Booking Form that is available from our Booking Secretary and completed by the Hirer.

The information we collect is: name, email address and telephone number.
